FURTHER REASON LINKED

These committees are for civil air communications, shipping and economics. A further reason for the session of the conference is considered unlikely until the committees are ready to report.

Advance information today in authoritative British circles indicates that the session of the conference will be held before the conference and will deal with defence and complete autonomy of the dominions.

It is not thought that the British government will press for any extension of an imperial navy policy, and while the matter is regarded as a matter of supreme urgency at this time, emphasis is being placed on the co-ordination of the defence of the home and dominion governments and on using them together.

The precise meaning the British government attaches to the word "co-ordination" is not clear, and the Canadian delegation has been given no inkling of their feelings in this regard, but it is pointed out that the Canadian navy and army are not completely integrated with the British navy and army.

It is possible that defence decisions for Canada will have to do more with spheres of operation and the extent to which the Canadian government can take responsibility within a given area.

It is also pointed out that the Canadian navy and army are not completely integrated with the British navy and army.

Little Mongrel Proves Hero As Master Killed

INLINGTON, Ont., May 14.—A little wire-haired mongrel was hailed today as a hero after his all-night vigil which ended early today in the discovery of his dead master, the victim of an automobile driver who failed to stop.

Herbert Johnson, 42, of this Toronto suburb, was walking on the highway with his dog towards a trolley stop to meet his wife when he was struck down. He lay all night in a pining rain while his dog whined and barked at passing cars.

Nurse rescued him, however, but Harry Critchley, who lives near by, investigated this morning and found the body.

The dog-stayed pup was wet and chilled to the bone. A few bits of splintered glass on the highway near the body indicated what had happened. When officers arrived, they found the Johnson family asleep, unaware of the accident.

RESTORATION FULL SALARY SCALE URGED

Dr. W. A. R. Kerr Pleads
For Consideration For University Staff

A plea for immediate restoration of the full University of Alberta staff salary scale was made Friday morning by President W. A. R. Kerr when he addressed the University Senate.

"The University continues to grow in numbers and needs proportionately with the community which brought it into being," President Kerr said, "and the University's income and facilities are not increasing at a commensurate rate. Costs of living are rising again, rising rapidly, and it is time that the salaries of the University staff were restored to their normal figure and that provision made, where necessary, for reasonable increments."

"Our teachers are already moving in this direction and, if we are to hold our own, similar action must be taken here at the earliest possible date."

The president reported that the full restoration this year was a slight increase over the previous year. He referred to the economic summer of 1936 and the reduction of last year and said that he collected some relief from over-crowded summer sessions. The Department of Education will give consideration to the situation in the Institute of Technology and Art at Calgary.

"It is interesting to consider from time to time what our restoration should be in relation to the general population of the province. In Ontario this relationship stands at one percent, in Alberta it is slightly less, and in the third of one per cent," he said.

"There is of course no purpose served in bringing this matter before more professional people than we are already, but on the other hand it would be a narrow policy indeed to keep a salary scale in force for any citizen who had the desire and capacity to learn."

He referred with regret to the death of Professor Edmund Kemper Broadbent, of whom he said, "He was one of the four original apaches, when this institution opened its doors in 1906. He was a remarkable man, an outstanding scholar and teacher in his chosen field of English literature."

He also referred to the resignation of three staff members, Professor H. J. McLeod, head of the electrical engineering department, who will be replaced by Professor E. C. Galloway, Cambridge University; Dr. Alan E. Cameron, professor of mining and metallurgy, who becomes deputy minister of mines in Ottawa; and Dr. A. R. Fisher, Philip, of St. Joseph's College, a member of the philosophy faculty.

THREE RETURNING

He reported that three absent members of the staff will return to the University next year. They are Professor E. J. Lewis, who has been at the University since 1906, and Dr. R. W. Kerr, who has been at the University since 1906. President Kerr reminded the Senate that students will require Summer Matriculation to enter the University for the 1937 autumn term. "The suppression of Grade XI entrance is not an arbitrary measure as might be expected," he said, "but a matter of fact only 40 students are entering the University on this basis during the past season."

Another Edmonton company returned from Alberta for the first time Friday morning when H. C. Deane of Seattle, registered at the Deane Hotel. He represents the National Engraving and Stamping Company, of Milwaukee, Wis., makers of house enamel and enameled ware, and is in the city to discuss the purchase of the Deane Hotel, owned by the British Columbia and Alberta, will visit Edmonton before noon on Friday.

Forest Fire Victims Emergency Relief 2515

Edmonton is still rallying to the aid of the forest fire victims in the Rimby-Breton-Roadley area. The above picture shows furniture, clothing, groceries, etc., which have been collected by the Salvation Army trucks piled up outside their receiving depot at Jasper and 100 street. The Army has turned all resources over to assist those collecting for the relief of the fire sufferers, and in addition to making collections is also picking the goods received and shipping them via the Canadian Pacific Railway which is freighting all donations into the stricken area free of charge. Salvation Army officers shown in the above picture, from left to right, are Sgt. Maj. J. W. Ratcliffe, Adjutant J. Shaw, F. Farrell, Major N. Mahb, Major J. Acton, officer in charge of the Edmonton division, and Major R. F. Pallett, of the Army depot, and a third is being made up.

livered on the occasion of his receipt of the degree of Doctor of Laws. Dr. Fox expressed his appreciation and deep sense of gratification at receipt of what he termed an "unearned increment." He declared that "Whereas, then, my youthful colleagues of Class 27 have spent years in earning their recognition and insignia, I have acquired mine at a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, as it were, for a mere half hour's address that has not yet been delivered."

Dr. Fox affirmed the bond uniting the U. of A. with his own university.

He recalled that Dr. W. H. Allen, who was a great friend, professor at Western Ontario, while Doctors Washburn and McArthur were in the chair, were graduates of Western Ontario.

"I am one of those who has known the U. of A. from its founding," he said. "Just as one knows that goes on in the adjoining household through casual or furtive glances over and through the boundary ledge, to days ago we educationists in Manitoba knew a great deal about the activities of the U. of A. and I can say with the utmost positiveness: from its first day the U. of A. has been found in ideals, aims and purpose, constructive in achievement. All its presidents, whom I have long known, and all its friends, have been a people of vigor and vision, who face the facts of life and at the same time know the way to the principles of progress."

GOVERNMENT SYMPATHETIC

The government of the province has always been and still is most sympathetic with the mission of the University and most generous in its aid. It has followed the University through cloudy weather. There is no reason to believe that this loyalty will ever be withdrawn.

C.N. CONSTRUCTS ROAD OR RAIL CARS FOR WEST

MONTREAL, May 14.—Four cars capable of travelling under their own power on rails or highway will be put in service by the Canadian National Railways early this summer. President S. J. Hangerford announced today.

The "auto-rails"—first in Canada—will go to work in the Atlantic, central and western regions. One 26-passenger car will be placed in each zone, and a freight car will be used in the western region.

The cars run on infra-red wheels, both on and off the tracks. On the rails, a flange holds them to the steel, controlled from the driver's seat. They can move from the highway to the rails in one minute, the president said.

The cars will be used on branch lines, picking up passengers or freight some distance from the railroad and going right through to their destinations.

A. P. Mitchell, of McGill, intimately acquainted with the disaster, is in charge of the fund. He is a member of the Canadian Red Cross executive, is supervising this fund.

All donations sent in, whether of goods or money, will be acknowledged in the Edmonton Bulletin. And they will be turned at once to the stricken area, there to perform their necessary work of mercy.

The campaign still continues, because the need is still great. But the fund must be kept up with unslackened intensity to its appeal. The maximum of relief is to be brought to Alberta's suffering citizens.

Additional donations in money received Friday at the Chamber of Commerce, 1025 10th street, are: M. E. Evans, C. W. Dawson, E. N. Higginbotham, Miscellaneous, Beryl Brail, L. S. FIFTH IN LINE

Canada has climbed back to fifth place among the trading nations of the world. Its exports plus imports ranked it fifth, Saturday, May 14, according to figures from the United States and Great Britain.

This is encouraging as a measure of the improvement in our trade position, therefore in production and in the general well-being of our people. It adds something to the national prestige and self-confidence, and it is a tribute to the fact that Canada is a trading nation. In distinguished company in the business world.

It is the amount of trade we do, not the place the Dominion occupies in the list of trading nations that matters. The latter may be deceptive. Canada held fifth place in 1932—the blackest year the country ever saw. And it fell to eighth place in 1933—when the time was slightly better.

Our trade abroad has been growing in volume, as the country has been climbing the scale of international trade, from the fifth place of 1929. But that is not good enough for 1937 and the years which are to follow. Unemployment is still too high, and a serious national handicap. Which means the productive capacity of our people is not being fully employed, and there is a loss to the country in the average standard of living we enjoyed eight years ago.

That we are on the way "back" to cheering news, it must not obscure the fact that wider markets are needed—and therefore continued efforts to adjust the national policy as to get them.

WHERE HE LEADS

King George VI has no illusions about kingship. What he thinks of it he told us in his coronation broadcast. "The higher the distinctions are service for others, and to the ministry of kingship I have, with your sharing, dedicated myself, with the Queen at my side, in words of the deepest solemnity."

Kingship is not a joy-ride. It is a job. A peculiarly onerous, harassing, nerve-wearing kind of job. An exceptionally exacting and exacting circumstance, that has to be spent in the full blaze of publicity, with little of that priceless thing we call privacy.

But the official life of a half-dozen self-governing nations, and an endless array of colonies, protectorates and dependencies, with the Empire of India, and the dominions of which a heavy price has to be paid, in worry and anxiety and sacrifice of personal inclination.

The active part of it consists in going places one doesn't particularly want to go, doing things one doesn't much want to do, making speeches and listening to them in subject one is not greatly interested in. Perhaps the other half of it is still harder to bear—the loss of the inestimable privilege of living one's own life in one's own way.

The responsibility of kingship is great but not essentially different from the responsibility of citizenship. Since the King is the King to serve, it is not that also the duty of every loyal subject? He also has obligations which cannot be shirked if he is to play his part in the scheme of things, obligations to do what he can, and in such ways as he may, to make life for others more happy and more secure. Where the King leads, his subjects must follow.

WELL DONE

The British Broadcasting Corporation certainly added to its laurels on Wednesday. The coronation proceedings were broadcast splendidly. No later with any imagination in his make-up could have difficulty convincing the throngs in the London streets of the splendour of the occasion, the impressive ceremonies in the Abbey, or the clamorous thousands before Buckingham palace who refused to be kept from the King when the Queen made repeated appearances on the balcony.

Of the engineering and technical difficulties incidental to this broadcast, the story of the story of the proceedings, the layman can know nothing, except that they were undoubtedly formidable and that they were successfully dealt with. Of the word-picturing of the event listeners are competent to judge, and their verdict will be that this left little to be desired.

Radio, it may be said, played its part with great credit in this remarkable service, and high satisfaction to listeners.

DEMOCRACY IN DANGER

Premier Baldwin the other day made what he intimated may be his "last appeal" to the people of Great Britain. He asked them to show "this democracy can practice the arts of peace in a world of strife."

He was pleading for industrial peace and a reasoned settlement of disagreements between capital and labor, and the principle he stated is broader than this. Not only in the settlement of labor disputes, but in all that relate to the conduct of national affairs and the shaping of conditions of life, democracy needs just such demonstrations of its own workability, as Mr. Baldwin asked for.

But it has to be admitted, is at a discount just now. But it is a discount based on a fallacy—the fallacy that a country is or would be better governed by irresponsible than by the elected representatives of the people. It has never been better governed in that way, but democratic peoples are showing a dangerous tendency to do so.

The democracies won the world war, against all the boasted "efficiency" of its autocracies. And then, curiously enough, democratic people began to ask themselves why they had not the most incompetent kind of government on earth. They have been asking themselves that same foolish question ever since and talking themselves right toward the "autocracy" type of government they smashed on the battle fields.

Democracy needs a good health-giving dose of self-control. And if the residents of democratically-governed countries do not administer that corrective to themselves they are likely to wake up when it is too late to find they are living under dictatorships of one name or another—numbered, tagged, regimented, regulated, and controlled by a few men who know how and when they may do it—like the residents of Germany, Italy and Russia.

Democracy has its faults and failings, plenty of them. But it is a far better government than worst is better than autocracy at its best. Not best for Mussolini and Hitler and Zarahoff and place-men and sabre-rattlers and the rest of the breed of tyrants who have ruled the world for the mass of people, who make up a nation, produce its wealth, and maintain its life. It is a government that is based on promoting among the nations those sanities which make for peace, tolerance, justice and prosperity.

When and wherein democracy has failed, its failure can be redeemed by the collective intelligence of the nation. That is the job which is the responsibility of every citizen. Instead of listening to twaddle about themselves, better their affairs would be managed by somebody who could rule them as he pleased.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—Mrs. M. M. asks: "What foods could be called building foods? What is actually a building food?"

ANSWER—Two of the most important food minerals necessary for the building of calcium and phosphorus, found in the following foods: Spinach, lettuce, cabbage, Swiss chard, turnips, asparagus, tomatoes, celery, cucumbers, raw green peas, lima beans, green peas, egg yolk and others. However, before these minerals may be used in the body, there must be supplied an adequate amount of vitamin D, which vitamin aids in the utilization of calcium and phosphorus in building a strong bone structure. In short, the most important building food sources, for example, it is found in the yolk of egg; or from cod liver oil and vitamin D; or the body may manufacture its own vitamin D by exposure of the skin to the ultra violet rays of sunlight. One of the latest developments in the food line is the production of vitamin D enriched milk, and milk and are now available in a form that provides vitamin D. All of this sounds rather complicated, but a simple rule for building strong bones would be: Eat natural foods grown in plenty of sunlight, and expose the body to sunshine while dressed in the minimum of clothing. In short, the most important building food, as the average lives, would not need to worry about building good bones. Those who want to build good bones, should eat normal bones are those who are living the life of civilization, or a life where something natural is being kept away from them. For example, the use of refined foods, or the lack of calcium and phosphorus, or indoor living may be shutting the sunlight away from the body and thus depriving it of giving calcium concentrate or vitamin D preparation is an effort to make up for something that the patient is not getting, while following the civilized regimen of living under more normal conditions, such necessity would not exist.

Poems That Live

"MOTHER, HOME, HEAVEN"
Three words fell sweetly on my soul,
As music from an angel's lyre,
That told my spirit a deeper truth,
And urged me to its sacred shore;
The sweetest sound to mortal ears
Are heard in Mother, Home and Heaven.

Dear Mother—never shall I forget
Thy brow, thine eyes, thy pleasant smile,
How sweet thy voice to me, how true
Thy star of life, my guide and light,
Oh, never shall thy form depart
From the bright pictures in my heart.

And like a bird that from the flowers,
Wing-whirled seeks her wonted nest,
How sweet to me thy voice, how true
Thy star of life, my guide and light,
Oh, never shall thy form depart
From the bright pictures in my heart.

And like a bird that from the flowers,
Wing-whirled seeks her wonted nest,
How sweet to me thy voice, how true
Thy star of life, my guide and light,
Oh, never shall thy form depart
From the bright pictures in my heart.

And like a bird that from the flowers,
Wing-whirled seeks her wonted nest,
How sweet to me thy voice, how true
Thy star of life, my guide and light,

FARM PLANS TO BE WORKING WITHIN MONTH

Gardiner Highly Pleased With Results of Regina Conference

OTTAWA, May 14.—Within a month it is hoped the first of a number of regional sessions for improving farm conditions in the western drought area will be under way. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, stated today.

Highly pleased with the results of the recent Regina conference on drought rehabilitation, Mr. Gardiner returned to his office today after a three-weeks visit to the west. He said most of the seeding was completed and 73 per cent of the crop was under from favorable moisture and soil conditions.

CROP PROSPECTS
Crop prospects, so far as they can be judged by conditions at seeding time, were particularly good in Alberta, Manitoba, and in eastern, northern and central districts of Saskatchewan. A belt along the southern boundary of Saskatchewan was dry and badly in need of rain.

At the Regina meeting, 84 delegates were present, representing federal and provincial governments, municipalities, mortgage and loan companies, railways, land companies and banks. All expressed approval of the plans suggested by Mr. Gardiner on behalf of the federal department of agriculture and promised co-operation.

TO ADVISE
An "advisory executive committee" under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act was set up on which the federal and provincial governments and the municipal associations are represented. Provision was made for an "advisory committee" which will be composed of representatives of the land, mortgage and loan companies, banks and railways which may be interested in particular areas.

That's Him, Says Suspect, Finger On Reporter

MONTREAL, May 14.—"That's him," the witness said. Newspaper reporter Hugh Crocheville, covering a dull criminal court case, left off drawing cartoons in his note pad and looked up to one who was being identified as a store burglar. He was.

MGR. FALAIZE ANXIOUS TO LEARN TO FLY

Northern Bishop's Sight Now Restored—Going Back Again

TORONTO, May 14.—Cured of "acute blindness," Bishop Peter Falaize is returning to his beloved Eskimon on Canada's northwest rim with a new airplane and a new ambition—the ambition to learn to fly. The Roman Catholic bishop stopped off here long enough today to reveal his latest interest.

Bishop Falaize said he had long been an air fan and now would like to pilot his own plane at times. He learned to drive and does to paddle a canoe, to hunt and build a snow hut during his 34 years in the Arctic and believes he is yet young enough to learn to fly.

Only three times in the 34 years has the bishop quit his mission, this time to get treatment for his eyes blinded by the long a period of darkness. He also obtained in the United States a few months ago the five-passenger "The Santa Maria" and the plane has been flown to the Arctic ahead of him.

Don't miss this time. Paul Emile Pinon-neault and Conrad Groulx were committed to trial on burglary charges, and Crocheville went back to the office to write about it.

CIANO MAKES VEILED CRACK AT NEWSPAPERS

Fascist Adopts Usual Dictator Attitude Toward Free Press

ROME, May 14.—Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, warned today a press "campaign" against Italy is "gravely dangerous."

He did not mention Great Britain by name when he brought up press relations in a foreign policy discussion before the Chamber of Deputies, but said:

"I believe it my duty to call attention to the grave danger represented by the periodical issuance of a certain international press which pretends to be Fascist Italy, continues to be inspired only by resentment, hatred and falsehood."

Italy recalled her correspondents from London last week-end and followed the action by carrying out a brief, on-line announcement of the coronation.

INVITES OTHERS
The foreign minister reiterated an invitation to other European nations to join the Italo-German line-up. He declared that Italy was in favor of a return to the old treaty of Locarno. His government, he said, formally told Belgium on March 12 that Italy was ready to guarantee neutrality.

Ciano called for "a better understanding of our ideals" and urged the United States "not to be misled by propaganda hostile to Fascism."

He said Italy would give "active contribution" to United States efforts for world-wide economic reconstruction.

ACCUSES BRITAIN
While he spoke the Giornale d'Italia accused the British press of trying to break up Italo-German friendship. The entire press charge that British ships which took food to Bilbao, besieged northern Spanish port, also carried modern armaments to the Basques.

Ciano said Italy would "loyally and scrupulously" respect its pledges not to intervene in Spain, although the country was "slightly annoyed" at the efficacy of the European non-intervention committee's usefulness.

Ciano said no additional treaty with Germany was planned. Italy would continue to cooperate with Germany in the spirit now prevailing.

Prison Author Is Given His Parole

FOLSOM, Calif., May 14.—Ernest Booth, prison author credited with several failed attempts to escape, was paroled today on condition he shun all cities when released in August. He has been a tuberculosis victim.

Booth wrote a book, "Stealing Through Life" and was credited with writing "The Ladies of the Big House."

LABOR UNREST SWELLS WINDSOR POLICE RANKS

WINDSOR, Ont., May 14.—Because of concurrent strikes in plants here in the last two days, Windsor police commissioners today decided to apply for 20 additional men for the ranks of police officers here as a preventive of possible violence.

The reinforcements would be used with city police on duty at the strike-beset plants, L. A. Young of Canada, Limited, and Walker Metal Products.

Approximately 200 workers walked from the Young plant Tuesday and half the 400 employees left the Walker factory yesterday. Both plants are continuing work with skeleton staffs.

The Walker strike today came when H. M. Gregory, plant manager, refused to meet with outside union organizers. He said he was willing to confer with his employees regarding any grievances but could not tolerate outside interference.

WOMAN BEARS EIGHT CHILDREN TO BIGAMIST

WELLAND, Ont., May 14.—After living for 23 years with Adam Johnson, a farmer, Thelma Mary C. Griffiths today told a criminal court judge she discovered Johnson, father of her eight children, had another wife, Marietta Louise Barnard, now of Governor, N.Y.

Johnson, confronted in court by his wife, was convicted of bigamy and sentenced by Judge L. R. C. Livingstone to from six to 12 months in the Ontario reformatory.

Johnson told the court his first marriage was "all a mistake" and that the second "Mrs. Johnson" was "the best woman that ever stepped into two shoes."

His second "wife" told the court that before laying the charge against Johnson she had consulted the Lincoln County crown attorney who had advised letting the case remain dormant.

GRAIN BOARD ON NATIONAL LINES ASKED

Farmer Spokesmen Are Heard at Turgon Wheat Probe

REGINA, May 14.—Operation of a national grain board to handle 1937 production and continue in operation as a permanent body disposing of all wheat and coarse grains was sought by farmer spokesmen appearing before the Turgon Royal Grain Commission yesterday.

W. T. Mooney and McDermid, Regina, farmers of the Grand Coulee district, ten miles west of here, were the two men who presented the views of a group of farmers who held meetings last month in Grand Coulee and Regina.

INITIAL PAYMENT
A resolution asking operation of the board for the 1937 crop and suggesting a small initial payment with interim payments March 1 and again when the whole crop was sold—probably in August—was submitted by Mr. Rankin.

Another resolution passed at the meeting deplored regulations which prevented the present wheat board from accepting delivery of wheat unless the open market price closed at 90 cents a bushel or lower when the board would pay 87½ cents a bushel.

Mr. Rankin suggested payment of a uniform price to all farmers but a national board would prevent wide fluctuations in price. Operation of a national board would also mean declaring consumers would appreciate a more stabilized price just as much as producers.

GERMAN WAR MINISTER CALLS ON MR. EDEN

European Statesmen Take Advantage of Coronation Opportunities

LONDON, May 14.—German War Minister Werner von Blomberg today was one of the most active of the many European statesmen who took advantage of their coronation visits here to talk with their colleagues from other countries.

Mr. Blomberg successfully visited Prime Minister Baldwin, Foreign Secretary Eden, Italian Ambassador Grandi and the Austrian secretary for foreign affairs, Guido Schmidt.

COURTESY CALLS
The visits were described as courtesy calls but the importance of the persons visited and the fact report at the headquarters in the I.O.O.F. Hall, 101 street, Saturday morning.

that Von Blomberg will go to Rome within the next fortnight appeared to indicate political problems were discussed.

In Berlin it was learned Air Minister Goering will again visit the Italian capital next Saturday—his second trip this month. At the same time reports were received that Premier Mussolini would soon call on Chancellor Hitler in Germany.

WESTERN FACT
Diplomatic circles believed Eden and von Blomberg reviewed the various aspects of a possible western European pact, particularly from its military viewpoints and with attention to the technical import of guarantees of assistance.

An exchange of views was said to have taken place as to how to ally German policies against the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact, considered by Britain an obstacle to western European negotiations.

Dr. Len Hall is not content with his position here—he's hanging on the ropes, outside of 'em and head down, at the Olympic Auditorium in Los Angeles. At Bismarck, who had just checked the good doctor, looks every bit a winner. But it wasn't to be. Doctor Hall crawled back into the ring and later Bismarck missed a firing tackle and landed outside the ring. He was unable to return in the 20 seconds allowed and the doctor won.

Softball

All three pastime activities at the "Y" softball league swung into action last night. Westmont, Central Melrose and W. W. Stars emerged as winners in the three encounters. At the golf links, Royals were sent out by Westmont by a 2-0 count in six innings. Westfield had no less than ten strikeouts as well as excellent fielding support. The Royals were not as fortunate as Westfield faced a hard hitting lineup with not too good backing.

Centrals had the high end of the 101 count at Victoria High school with Melvins playing their bills in the wrong spots. Coming on the mound for the winners had a decided edge on the slugging. Royalties pressed hard in the exhibition grounds game but succumbed to W. W. Stars with the low end of the 18-11 score. Each of the games was featured by one home run. Hawks counted for Westmont, Barker for Centrals with one and Andrew Altitude for Stars.

Ed. Donald of Raybushs just raised the host as he failed to cross the plate in time to beat a long peg in from center field.

Tip Top announces "Coronation Stripes"—its own style contribution to Coronation Year. Clever, unique groupings of reds, whites and blues, all in perfect taste, of course. Style forecasts say that stripes will be popular this year on a Bond Street and Piccadilly.

The "Coronation-Stripes" model shown here has a coat with wide, peaked lapels. Note the fullness through the chest, which gives a graceful break at the waist. Be sure to see the "Coronation Stripes" at your nearest Tip Top store.

How Nelson to get away. Ken
"I'll try to get him, will you?"
He replaced the phone on the hook and returned to Bob.
"Nelson assured us that we could reach him at the hotel for the next week or two," he remarked.
"He's probably out for the moment.
However, we'll talk to him again later, Mr. Andrews. We'll get down to details this time. Thank you for bringing this to my attention."
Oh, and thank Miss Clarke, too.
"Will you?"
"I will. But the way has been closed."

"We haven't located her, if that's what you mean. But every radar operator has her description, and we're checking the hotels now . . ."

He broke off abruptly as the telephone in the next room rang. "Wall," he suggested, "this may be one of her now." He hastened to answer it.

Bob listened with expectant

"It looks as if your hunch is right, Andrews," he said gravely. "Forbes's skipped out of the hotel bag and baggage, without word."
